Information about risks, behavioural obligations and disclaimer

The participant acknowledges and accepts that the cycling event in general and the participation in the event (including side events) in particular involve a variety of risks and dangers. The participant is aware of these dangers - which are listed below by way of example - which may have an effect on the physical integrity. The participant also accepts this risk consciously and therefore acts at his own risk and peril.

In addition to the usual risks belonging to cycling sports, the organizer points out special dangers arising from such a cycling event by way of example as well as special dangers caused by the participation in the event. A threat to the physical integrity (and to the items the participant takes with him/her) could result, for example, due to the following reasons ...

- cycling in a throng
- reaching high speeds (involving also other participants)
- cycling mistakes and concentration errors due to personal (or related to other participants) fatigue or effort
- the influence of slippery asphalt and sometimes poor road conditions on the cycling behavior of participants
- the impossibility of securing all dangerous spots (in particular natural and artificial obstacles) on the roadside and along the entire courses
- the impossibility of securing all possible crash sites and danger of falling spots in connection with the natural structure of the course (steep descends on some parts of the courses)
- the fact that there are extreme weather conditions (rain, wind, fog, etc.).
- the courses traveling in part through wildlife and grazing areas, where you must always watch out for unattended grazing cattle (for example goats, cows, horses or sheep) as well as wild animals or unleashed pets standing on the road all of a sudden - they may also leave dirt there unexpectedly
- the behaviour of other participants in the event or other persons on the roadside (spectators), but also of course staff or other persons involved in the organization of the event.
- Or any other element and/or situation in cycling sport and cycling events regarding speed, contact between participants, road surface and weather conditions, spectators and the organization

All these dangers and risks can result in serious bodily harm, including death, pain, emotional stress, trauma, property damage, financial loss, etcetera. These damages can affect not only the participant him/herself but also other participants or relatives.

All courses will be closed for traffic in coordination with all involved public authorities. Cut-off times will be communicated on the web site.

For their own safety and the safety of all other participants and spectators, each participant undertakes to observe the applicable laws and regulations established by the organizer (for example obligatory helmets, no accompanying vehicles, etc.) as well as the instructions given by the police, road officials or organizing staff (incl. race director, course officials, etc.). Violations can result in the disqualification and blocked registration of the participant who can be held liable according to the general rules and principles.

The participant confirms that he has checked his equipment accurately and that it is in a good, legally compliant and suitable condition for participating in the event.

By knowing all circumstances of the event and accepting all dangers and risks, the participant renounces - even in the name of his legal successors – any liability and responsibility of the organizer, its vicarious agents and its representatives and employees. This waiver of liability does not apply to culpable personal injury caused by the named persons, to grossly negligent or intentionally caused property damage or to damages to be compensated according to the general Product Liability Act.

Additionally, the participant shall indemnify and hold free and harmless the organizer from any third-party claims, including the persons named in the previous point regarding all actions, damages, claims or liabilities due to the participation in the event.

The organizer assumes no liability for accidents, thefts or other damages involving the participants or third parties before, during and after the event.

The organizer assumes no liability for any damage to bicycles or other items, "mix-up" of items or theft in the "broom buses", resulting from the event scene (for example due to a crash), at the refreshment stations and in the Bike Park.

The organizer strongly recommends to all participants to take out an adequate accident and third-party liability insurance policy. Furthermore, the organizer points out that in some cases - depending on the insurance policy - participation in competitions (like the Istria300) is excluded from the insurance cover. The insurance cover for participating in such an event must be checked by each participant individually in advance and on own responsibility.

Blocked registration or disqualification of participants

A gross violation of these terms and conditions of participation or the general rules and regulations may result - at the sole discretion of the organizer - in the cancellation of the registration, refusal to participate in the event, disqualification from the event and/or suspension for future events and blocked registrations. In all these cases the participant has no right to refund of the entry fee or any other reimbursement of costs/expenses.

The organizer also reserves the right, at its discretion, to exclude persons from the event provided that

- checkpoints set by the organizer are not passed in time
- the participant endangers him/herself or other persons with their (further) participation
- the participant damages or harms the good reputation of the organizer or the event
- the participant competes with the performance of the organizer by offering own or similar services.

Granting of rights

The organizer is entitled to make sound and video recordings and to take photos of the event, and to use them afterwards. The organizer may use names, images, voice recordings and results for own purposes (for example advertising purposes, publications in magazines etc.). This material can be used - in the context of applicable legal regulations (for example GDPR) - in all media channels without any limit (time, place, content).

The participant authorizes the organizer to use, show, send, transmit, reproduce and/or make the material available to the public in all media channels (for example radio, television, cinema, events, data carriers, internet). The organizer is also entitled to make changes, cuts or other editing of the image/sound material and to use the changed material without restriction

Closing provisions

The organizer reserves the right, to the extent permitted by law, to change these registration terms and participation conditions as well as the general rules and regulations. The ineffectiveness of single provisions related to these registration terms and participation conditions does not affect the validity of the remaining provisions. The legal relationship between the organizer and the participant and all resulting disputes shall be governed exclusively by Croatian substantive law, with the exception of the UN Sales Convention.

For all disputes arising from this agreement, only the court legally responsible for HR 52100 Pula, Croatia, may be called upon to decide.
